

PARLIAMENT TO DISCUSS MEANS TO END STRIKE

Britain's Coal Industry Almost Completely Tied Up by Walk-out of the Miners

FIRST STRIKE RIOTING REPORTED FROM WALES

Government Seeks Negotiations With Miners Over Strike Differences

LONDON.—Premier Lloyd George was expected to make declarations at the opening of parliament Tuesday relative to the situation resulting from the strike of coal miners which began on Saturday and measures taken by the government to meet the crisis.

Great Britain's coal mining industry has been almost completely paral-yzed by the strike. Reports of disturbances from all coal fields in England, Scotland and Wales. Sharp autumn weather prevails over the British Isles and belief was expressed today that this would have an important bearing on efforts to end the strike. No announcement has been made by the national union of rail-waymen and the transport workers' union relative to joining the miners in striking.

The first untoward incident directly connected with the coal strike occurred at Ton-Y-Pandy, in South Wales, at midnight, when some young colliers collected and started to sing "The Red Flag," causing the police to intervene. Stone throwing occurred, but the crowd was dispersed.

This afternoon there were large crowds in Whitehall opposite Downing street and at the parliament building, while Trafalgar Square was jammed with people.

No demonstrations occurred. Near the main centers of congestion police moved in squads.

Look to Parliament

The eyes of all Britain were centered Tuesday upon the first session of parliament after the summer recess, the nation looking anxiously for action which might open a way to end the coal strike.

The interest is the Irish question pending the possibility of the whole country and the members assembled with the idea of devoting their entire immediate attention to this topic.

Rumors in political quarters as to probable developments dealt mainly with two suggestions—one that, as the result of certain private discussions of political leaders and prominent labor men, the government and the miners' federation would soon set into negotiations again; the other, that the government was contemplating a dissolution of parliament to test the opinion of the nation.

Won't Affect U. S.

NEW YORK.—The coal strike in England will have no abnormal effect on the bituminous coal situation in the United States. While British labor trouble may increase export prices, the home consumer will not be affected.

This was the consensus of opinion here Tuesday of representatives of coal export agencies and wholesale dealers, who declared all coal that could possibly be shipped abroad had been going out of the country for months.

Millions of tons of unfilled orders are being held by American coal exporters, it was stated, and are being filled as fast as the fuel can be obtained and loaded at Atlantic ports.
It was pointed out that it would be a physical impossibility to export more coal to European countries.

COL. M'COY AND JOHN BURKE TALK
HERE THIS EVENING

Democratic Nominee for Governor and U. S. Treasurer Speak at Yeomen Hall

La Crosse Democrats are prepared for the biggest rally of the campaign in this city when Col. R. B. McCoy of Sparta, Democratic's candidate for governor, speaks tonight in Yeomen hall.

Col. McCoy will devote his speech to state issues. John Burke, United States treasurer, who will be another speaker, will talk on national questions. John V. Doherty will be chairman of the meeting.

A delegation headed by Mr. Doherty met the colonel at Bauger this morning and accompanied him to West Salem, where they were joined by the West Salem band and then motored to Lindora, Holmen, Onawa and La Crosse, arriving here late in the afternoon. An informal reception will be held this evening before the Yeomen hall meeting in the Stoddard hotel.

NOON LUNCHEON IS NEW PLAN OF MERCHANTS HERE

Try Out Experiment, Abandoning Evening Meal and Meeting Tomorrow

AD CLUB BUREAU WILL SERVE FOR CORN AND GRAIN SHOW

Will Serve as Publicity Agent for Big Winter Event

Abandoning temporarily the evening dinner meetings, the merchants' bureau of the Chamber of Commerce will tomorrow try out the big-city plan of meeting at a noon luncheon.
In this experiment, the merchants' bureau is taking cognizance of a plan which is meeting with success in various civic organizations in the larger cities, where all meetings are held following noon luncheons. Businessmen as a rule eat their luncheons down town, and little extra time is required to transact the business of civic organizations at noonday gatherings, whereas the evening dinner meetings keep them away from their families an extra meal and the larger part of the evening.

The experiment which will be tried tomorrow is being watched with considerable interest by members of other bureaus of the Chamber of Commerce.

At the meeting tomorrow the merchants' bureau will join other bureaus of the Chamber of Commerce in pushing plans for the state corn and grain show and winter carnival to be held here in January.

The bureau last night decided to submit an offer to the board of directors to take charge of arrangements for a "made in La Crosse banquet" to be served members of the Chamber the latter part of November.

The bureau endorsed the winter carnival plan and voted to serve as a publicity bureau for the general committee in charge of the corn and grain show and carnival.

POLAND ASKED BY ALLIES TO DISAVOW VILNA OCCUPATION

Contrary to Lithuanian Armistice Declares Note from France and Britain

LONDON.—A note on the Vilna situation was handed the Polish government Sunday by the French and British representatives in Warsaw.
The note declared the allied governments considered occupation of Vilna contrary to armistice with Lithuania and contrary to assurances given by Poland to the allies.

Both governments declared Poland should disavow General Zeligowski's action and give satisfaction to the league of nations, whose authority, it was pointed out had been shaken. The note said if the situation was not quickly cleared the governments would have to consider further action.

Wrangel Repulsed

SEBASTOPOL.—By The Associated Press.—The efforts of General Wrangel, anti-bolshevik leader in South Russia, to take the Kakhovka bridgehead, have resulted in heavy losses to his forces in killed and wounded and in material captured by the bolsheviks. The killed included the general commanding the Barbovitch cavalry corps.

General Wrangel's troops have been thrown back into the Taurida area, behind the Dnieper, which they still control.

General Wrangel has signed a law creating local Zemstvos which will exercise far-reaching powers. In violating the law, General Wrangel said he hoped civil war would soon end and that the Zemstvos would send capable delegates to the national assembly which will determine the future character of new Russia.

The Wrangel troops are retreating in disorder while the bolsheviks advance and are shelling tanks and caissons. The soviet forces have assumed the offensive on both fronts.

Foreign Missions Leave Vilna

PARIS.—All the missions, military and civil, including the mission of the league of nations, have left Vilna, according to reports in official circles here. General Zeligowski, insurgent polish commander, who recently seized the city issued proclamation in which he said the allies were insufficiently informed of the situation at Vilna. He was compelled by circumstances, he said, to take the action he did.

YELLOWSTONE TRAIL MEET
TO BE HELD AT OSHKOSH

OSHKOSH, Wis.—The seventh annual meeting of the Yellowstone Trail association for Wisconsin will be held here Friday, November 12, with about 70 representatives attending.
The organization is now actively organized in eleven states.

Dog Finds A Man's Head In Gill's Coulee

A dog browsing around in the woods near Gill's Coulee this morning found the head of a man. The animal brought its find to the school house in the coulee, which is in the town of Hamilton. School children found the dog playing with the head in the school yard. A hasty search of the woods failed to reveal the rest of the body. There was some hair left on the head, and from the condition of skin the victim had evidently been dead some time.

HUNGER STRIKERS
DEPRESSED OVER FITZGERALD DEATH

Two of Fasting Prisoners in Collapse; MacSwiney's Condition Unchanged

DEMONSTRATION AT FUNERAL OF FITZGERALD IS BARRED

Government to Proceed With Irish Bill Says Bonar Law

CORK.—The condition of the Irish hunger strikers in Cork jail has become worse as the result of the depression caused by the death Sunday of Michael Fitzgerald, first of the eleven to succumb.

Joseph Murphy, who was very low Monday, has rallied as the result of medical treatment.

Several collapses were suffered by two of the strikers, Donovan and Keu-ney. Sean Hennessy, Reilly and Upton are also in a critical stage.

To prevent Irish volunteers from marching in the funeral procession of Fitzgerald when his body was removed Tuesday to Fermoy, military surrounded the church and six hundred of soldiers and an armored car followed the mourners' carriages.

In the streets great indignation was expressed at the military display, fervent excitement prevailing.

Volunteers in long rows lined Patrick street to make a path for the funeral.

A dramatic scene was enacted in the church before the removal of Fitzgerald's body. The requiem mass was being celebrated when an army officer with drawn revolver, accompanied by four soldiers, marched to the altar rail and presented the officials with a communication from headquarters limiting the persons in the funeral procession to 100.

The entrance of the soldiers created a commotion, women and children running toward the altar, Irish volunteers calmed the congregation and the ceremonies proceeded. After leaving Patrick street the funeral procession took the road leading to Fermoy, military lorries accompanying it. Volunteers prevented street crowds following the cortege.

MacSwiney Unchanged

LONDON.—The condition of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork was unchanged the 98th day of his hunger strike, said the bulletin of the Irish Self-Determination league.

He passed a good night without development of yesterday's disquieting symptoms.

"The lord mayor's memory seems to be weakening," added the bulletin, "but he is conscious and determined.
His sight is affected, and doctors fear signs of scurvy are developing."

Proceed With Irish Bill

LONDON.—The government intends to proceed with the government of Ireland bill, Andrew Bonar Law, government leader, declared in the house of commons Tuesday. This was cheered from the coalition benches.

Colonel Malone, liberal member, demanded whether the government intended to continue the "police muderers' reprisals."

Mr. Bonar Law replied: "It is the intention of the government meantime to put down the policy of mu-der."

Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, stated that since January first one hundred policemen and eighteen of the military had been killed in Ireland and 60 police and 66 military wounded. Police barracks to the number of 667 had been attacked and many destroyed. There had been an organized attempt to boycott the police and their relatives.

Sir Hamar said the means of dealing with the situation were rapidly improving.

Won't Release Strikers

Home Secretary Shortt, questioned as to the possible release of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork, declared the government had not altered its policy that convicted men, or those awaiting trial would not be released because of hunger strikes. All the men striking came within this category, the home secretary said. Michael Fitzgerald who died in Cork jail, Mr.
Shortt added, was charged with mu-der, and there was decisive evidence against him.

The home secretary asserted none of the prison authorities had fed Lord Mayor MacSwiney.

HANGAR REQUIRED
CAN BE BUILT HERE FOR FOUR THOUSAND

Expensive Shelter for Air-Mail Ships on Salzer Field Not Demanded by Department

PLANS PROGRESSING RAPIDLY FOR LAUNCHING OF SERVICE

Expected that Mail Ships Will be Flying this Month

The city of La Crosse will not be required to build an elaborate, expensive hangar to house the air-mail ships on Salzer field, according to information given local officials by aerial mail service authorities.

A long shed, with room and facilities to house two or three airships, which can be erected for $3,000 or $4,000, will meet the demands of the postoffice department for a time here, the officials assert. Postmaster O.
R. Skarr and officers of the Aero club of La Crosse have been advised that a shelter of this sort will be sufficient in this city.

In Minneapolis, it is said, the same sort of hangar has been erected at a cost of $14,000, with accommodations for twelve airships. With accommodations desired here for only two or three ships, it is figured that the hangar will cost, not to exceed $4,000.

While plans for the erection of the hangar on Salzer field have not been definitely outlined, local officials are confident that the required financial arrangements will be made, and the building erected in good time.

No word has as yet been received here as to the date when the Chicago-La Crosse-Twin city air-mail service will be launched. Planes are still being ferried through between Chicago and the Twin cities, via La Crosse to acquaint the flyers with the route, and arrangements are being made as rapidly as possible to inaugurate the service. The opinion prevails here that the service will be started this month, although there is a possibility of further delay.

BIESSEN FARMHAND IS ARRAIGNED ON STATUTORY CHARGE

John G. Beier Pleads Not Guilty to Accusation in Connection With Mrs. Biesen

EXAMINATION IS SET FOR FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Suicide of Nick Biesen Followed by Burning of Family Home

John G. Beier, a farmhand, formerly employed on the farm of Nick J. Biesen, on Brinkman's ridge, three miles north of Coon Valley, was arraigned before Judge Brindley in County court today charged with a statutory offense in connection with Mrs. Nick Biesen. He pleaded not guilty and was held for examination next Friday afternoon.

The complaint charges Beier with committing the crime on June 15, 1920. On August 26, Nick Biesen, who had been living apart from his wife, his wife and children occupying the farm house while he slept in the barn, was found dead in the barn.
He had ended his life by shooting himself through the mouth with a shotgun.

Some weeks later, the Biesen farm house was burned. The fire started while Mrs. Biesen and the children were asleep. Before they could escape, Mrs. Biesen and one child were severely burned and had to be removed to a La Crosse hospital.

JAMES THOMPSON OPENS CAMPAIGN IN WATERTOWN TONIGHT

James Thompson, La Crosse, independent candidate for United States senator, will open his campaign at Watertown this evening. From Watertown Mr. Thompson will go to Kenosha, Racine and during the week will speak in the lake shore counties.

PLAYMATES IN COWBOY GAME

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—"Playing hanging" proved fatal Monday to Charles Weiss, 11-year-old son of Sam Weiss, of Budoro, Ark. A rope placed under the boy's arms by companions in a game of "cowboys and highwaymen" slipped, caught under his chin and strangled him to death before his playmates noticed the rope had slipped.

The boy's parents were attending the funeral of a friend.

FRANCE DENIES HARDING CLAIMS

G. O. P. NOMINEE
DEFENDS TALK ON NEW LEAGUE

French "Spokesmen" Who Approached Him Were not Officially Declares Harding

FRENCH GOVERNMENT NOT INVOLVED IN INCIDENT

Incorrectly Quoted in Greencastle Speech Says Senator

MARION, O.—Replying to an inquiry from President Wilson, Senator Harding wrote the White House Monday night that although France had sent her spokesmen to him informally, asking America to lead the way for an association of nations, the incident had not involved the French government in any violation of international proprieties.

The senator declared that in his reference to the subject in a speech at Greencastle, Ind., he only had sought to convey the thought that there had come to him "those who spoke a sentiment which they represented to be very manifest among the French people." He added that his words "could not be construed to say that the French government has sent anybody to me."

Referring to Mr. Wilson's suggestion of impropriety in a foreign nation approaching "a private citizen," on such a subject, Senator Harding pointed out that he is a member of the foreign relations committee as well as a nominee for the presidency and suggested that "an informal expression to me is rather more than that to a private citizen."

"It is gratifying that you hesitate to draw inference without my assurance that I am correctly quoted," Senator Harding's letter says. "The quotation as reported in your letter is not exact. The notes of the stenographer reporting my remarks quote me as saying: 'France has sent her spokesmen to me informally, asking America in its new realization of the situation to lead the way for an association of nations.'"

"I am sure my words could not be construed to say that the French government has sent anybody to me.
The thought I was trying to convey was that there had come to me those who spoke a sentiment which they represented to be very manifest among the French people, but nothing could suggest the French government having violated the proprieties of international relations. Official France would never seek to go over your high office as our chief executive to appear to the American people or any portion thereof."

"I can see no impropriety in private citizens of France or in Americans deeply friendly to France, expressing to me their understanding of sentiment in that friendly republic."

"It is not important enough to discuss, perhaps, but I very respectfully urge that an informal expression to me is rather more than that to a private citizen. I hold a place, as a member of the foreign relations committee of the United States senate, which is charged with certain constitutional authority in dealing with foreign relations, and I am necessarily conscious that I am the nominee of the republican party for president."

"In the combination of these two positions it ought not be unseemly that devoted friends of a new and better relationship among nations, no matter whence they come, should wish to advise me of aspirations to co-operate without own republic in attaining that purpose. Let me assure you of the observance of all the proprieties and that the French government has maintained that respect for your position to which I myself subscribe."

Cox Reduces Statement

WORCHESTER, Mass.—Senator Harding's explanation of his remarks regarding the alleged French overtures for a "new association of nations" was ridiculed Tuesday by Governor Cox in an address to a large station crowd.

"Senator Harding is having a lot of trouble, occasioned by his own words," said Governor Cox. "I think the gentleman consulted was not a diplomat nor a statesman. Here we have a great international question and the gentleman consulted by Senator Harding was the funny man, the humorist of France."

Governor Cox apparently referred to Maurice Dekobra, a French author, whom the governor mentioned Monday night. Referring to Senator Harding's statement in today's paper, the governor said:

"It is amazing how stupid the American people are. They just can't make out the man from Marion."

The governor said if elected he will take up the question of Ireland before the bar of public opinion, characterizing the present conditions in Ireland as a war of extermination.

In Springfield the governor spoke in his pajamas to a station crowd.

FRENCH CHARGE
AT WASHINGTON DENIES REPORT

No One Authorized by France to Approach Harding; Declares Diplomat

CALLS AT STATE DEPARTMENT WITH OFFICIAL ASSURANCES

U. S. Knows Nothing of French Desire to Scrap League

WASHINGTON.—Assurances have been given the state department by Count Debureau, French charge here, that the French government has not given authority to anyone to approach Senator Harding with suggestions that the republican presidential nominee take the lead in forming a new world association.

Calling the attention to an official denial issued by the French foreign office Monday, the French charge told Under-Secretary of State Davis that he was assured that the French government had delegated no spokesman to act for it in negotiations with Senator Harding either "formally or informally, officially or unofficially."

The announcement of the visit of the French charge to the state department yesterday afternoon was made today by Mr. Davis, who said that while Count Debureau had delivered his formal reply to the American note of inquiry to the French government, dispatched yesterday, he supposed that the assurances given by the charge were the result of previous communications with his government.

Mr. Davis said he did not know whether the French government would content itself with the formal denial of yesterday and assurances given the state department through the French charge or whether a formal reply would be made to the note of inquiry sent by the American government at the direction of President Wilson.

It was stated that the American government had never had any information of a desire by the French government to scrap the present league of nations or to revise it.

PROBE OF CROOKED
BASEBALL RESUMED
BY CHICAGO JURY

Special Attention to be Paid to Baseball Pools; Ebbets and Frazee Excused

CHICAGO, Ill.—Investigation by the special grand jury of the alleged "fixing" of the 1919 world's series, as well as other phases of baseball gambling was resumed today.

At the present session it was indicated special attention would be paid to baseball pools and the grand jury was expected to make some recommendation as to whether or not they were a form of gambling harmful to professional baseball.

Witnesses summoned for today's hearing include Harry Frazee, owner of the Boston Red Sox, Charles Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn Nationals and Ban Johnson, president of the American league, was recalled.

Telegrams have been sent to Arnold Rothstein, mentioned in previous hearings as a "New York gambler," who profited by the alleged fixing of the 1919 series; Abe Attell, former pugilist of New York; Joseph Pesch, Harvey Redmond, and Thomas C.
Keeney, all of St. Louis, asking them to appear before the grand jury, but none have answered the telegram. Abe Attell was reported in Canada and it was said he had announced his intention of staying there.

Charles Ebbets, owner of the Brooklyn Nationals and Harry H.
Frazee, president of the Boston Americans, were excused as witnesses. Both told Assistant State Attorney Repletz they had no information on gambling, but expressed willingness to return later if necessary. Mr. Ebbets said he was impressed with the work of the grand jury and hoped it would be possible for it to recommend adoption of the Lasker plan for the reorganization of baseball.

AUSTRIA IS WARNED AGAINST VIOLATING TREATY PROVISIONS

PARIS.—Allied powers will respect the result of the plebiscite in the Klagenfurt district of Austria, according to the Echo de Paris which declares notification to this effect has been sent to Vienna by the council of ambassadors. The council is said to have intimated to the Austrian government that it was expected it would not violate article eighty-eight of the treaty of St. Germain, which forbade the union of Austria and Germany, without approval from the council of the league of nations.

WORD OF PARIS

Government Has Had No Communication With Candidate, Formally or Informally, Says Statement

PUZZLED OVER REPORTED STATEMENT OF HARDING

Must Have Mistaken Unofficial Opinion as View of Government, Says Official

PARIS.—The French foreign office stated shortly after noon today that it had not received any demand from Washington for information regarding the subject referred to by President Wilson in his letter to Senator Harding, telegraphed to the press of France from the United States.

The only statement authorized by the foreign office in this connection is that no official communication of any nature had been made by the French government regarding a substitute for the league of nations.

France Sent No One

The statement given out at the French foreign office says that "no spokesman qualified to speak officially for the French government on the league of nations issue, or any other issue, has been sent from Paris to speak with Senator Harding, either formally or informally."

"When the French government has anything it wishes to say to Amer-

BADGERS PROMINENT IN PARADE OF SEVEN STATES AT MARION

"Wisconsin 200,000 Strong for Harding" is Message of Front Porch Pilgrims

MARION, O.—Bearing aloft the message "Wisconsin 200,000 strong for Harding," Badger pilgrims marched along Mt. Vernon avenue in a parade of seven states and swelled the tumult of cheering for Warren G. Harding when he appeared on his front porch Monday afternoon.

On this day of sunshine, cheering, and band playing, Wisconsin showed that it is a driving force in the political tidal wave for Harding and Coolidge. Along the line of march and in front of the senator's home, boosters from Badgerdom were given an oration.

With Mr. Harding when he appeared on the famous front porch was his wife. They smiled and bowed and waved as the vast crowd, overflowing the lawn and jamming nearby streets, cut loose with an uproar of enthusiasm.

Wisconsin was in the limelight every minute from the time the Badger special pulled into Marion early Monday morning until the final cheering as the train started home at 11 o'clock Monday night.

Delegation is Active

Flags, banners and badges proclaimed to the Marionites that Wisconsin was pulling for Harding and Coolidge. The delegation of more than a hundred made more noise and attracted more attention than any other delegation in town. Led by the Wisconsin Veterans' Drum corps, whose files shrieked shrilly to the accompaniment of the rolls of the drums, the Badger pilgrims drew continuous applause as the procession moved through the downtown streets. The marchers carried Cardinal pennants and sang "On Wisconsin" as they passed in review before Senator and Mrs. Harding.

The old battle cry brought a happy smile to the senator's face and Mrs. Harding was pleased that she tossed several of her pink roses to the pilgrims.

The Wisconsin visitors were in the front ranks of the multitude that packed every inch of available space for blocks around the Harding home. Movie cameras clicked continuously. The tide and drum veterans caught Senator Harding's eye and he waved to them, beckoning them closer to the porch. As the veterans passed before him, the senator leaned over the rail and shook hands with each of them.

"Wisconsin's all right," he shouted as Capt. Max H. Biersach, commander of the corps, directed a final farewell serenade.

PHILIPP TO TAKE NO PART IN THE BADGER CAMPAIGN

MADISON, Wis.—Politics is giving Gov. Philipp very little trouble this year. Since the primary campaign the governor has not made a political speech and it now appears that he will take no part in the fall campaign.

Just at the present time the governor is at Lake Koshkonong hunting at the executive's office on Tuesday. It was said the governor might be back in Madison this week. He intends to spend two or three weeks at his hunting lodge. Private Secretary L. C. Whittier is with him.

TURKEYS SCARCE THIS YEAR REPORT THE PRODUCE MEN

CHICAGO, Ill.—Reports presented at the convention of the National Poultry, Butter and Egg association Tuesday indicated that only about three-fourths the normal number of turkeys had been raised the last year in principal middle western producing states. The reports said, however, that there would be plenty of other fowl.

The poultry dealers were told of a new device that will enable them to keep an egg fresh for nine months. The device has been accomplished through a perfection of sterilizers, which seals up the pores of the egg shell and prevents bacteria from entering. The cost of sterilizing was said to be about one cent a dozen.

Discolored, Wrinkled Skin Easily Removed

Since brown or yellow, over-red or blotchy complexions are decidedly not the fashion, it is difficult to understand why so many continue to wear them. Surely every woman has heard of morcelized wax. This will positively banish every unsightly line. The wax really takes off a bad complexion. It gradually, harmlessly, absorbs the thin layer of surface skin, with such defects as liver spots, pimples, freckles, blackheads. Just as gradually the discarded skin is replaced by the clear, white, youthful skin underneath. Morcelized wax, procurable at any drug store, is applied nightly like cold cream and erased mornings with warm water. One ounce will produce the loveliest girlish complexion in less than a fortnight.

It is hard to understand, also, why folk will be bothered with pimples, since the famous salicilic formula has become public property. One ounce of powdered salicilic dissolved in a half-pint witch hazel makes a wash lotion that will quickly efface every line, even the deepest.

PRICE REDUCTIONS CAUSING BIG LOSS TO FARMERS OF U. S.

Situation Demands Consideration of the Bankers Declares Farm Secretary

WASHINGTON—Shrinkage in the value of farm products so far this season will result in American farmers receiving $2,500,000,000 less than they would have secured on the 1919 price basis, Secretary of Agriculture Meredith said Tuesday, addressing the American Bankers' association annual convention. He classed the resulting situation as one "which demands the best thought and sympathy."

thletic consideration of the bankers in America, and of all the people of the country.

Mr. Meredith estimated the fall in corn prices had involved a billion dollar loss to producers, while the decrease in cotton prices amounted to a third of a billion dollars. The situation was further made harder for farmers, he said, because the labor and materials necessary to crop production had been supplied during the high period.

"The American people must see to it that farmers secure credit sufficient for their needs," Mr. Meredith continued, "only thus can they continue to supply the nation's need for food. The farmer is not the only one who would be adversely affected if he fails to secure a reasonable return for his efforts. I do not think you can fail to see that the farmers' problems are your problems, and that your ultimate prosperity depends upon a right solution of the difficulties confronting the farmer."

The marketing problem, Mr. Meredith said, is the greatest one facing the agricultural interests. He urged that bankers assist co-operative farmers' enterprises, and acknowledged that bankers already had given "very great aid" to agriculture.

WILSON CONFIRMS SENTENCE OF ARTILLERY CAPTAIN

WASHINGTON.—President Wilson has confirmed the sentence of dismissal from service and fifteen years' imprisonment at hard labor, imposed by court martial upon Second Lieutenant John C. # Why Teeth Stain You leave a film-coat on them

All statements approved by authorities

Most teeth are dimmed more or less by a film. Smokers' teeth often become darkly coated.

That film makes teeth look dingy, and most tooth troubles are now traced to it.

Millions now combat that film in a new, scientific way. This is to offer a test to you, to show the unique results.

You must end film

The film is viscous—you can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

Ordinary brushing methods leave much of this film intact. So millions find that well-brushed teeth discolor and decay. You must attack film in a better way, else you will suffer from it.

It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

A scientific film combant, combined with two other modern requisites. Now advised for daily use by leading dentists everywhere. Supplied by druggists in large tubes.

Efficient ways

Dental science, after painstaking research, has developed effective ways to fight film. The world's highest authorities now approve them, after careful tests.

These ways are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And leading dentists everywhere now advise its daily use. A ten-day tube is being sent to everyone who asks.

Watch these new effects

One ingredient is pepsin. One multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to dissolve the starch deposits that cling. One multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva to neutralize mouth acids as they form. Two factors directly attack the film. One keeps the teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily cling.

Pepsodent has brought a new era in teeth cleaning. It fights the tooth destroyers as was never done before.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the slimy film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears.

You will always brush teeth in this new way when you watch the results for a week. Cut out the coupon now.

BE GENTLE UNTO ALL

The servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, apt to teach, patient, in meekness instructing those that oppose themselves.—2 Timothy, 2: 24, 25.

KEEP WAY ON THE BOAT

ECONOMISTS assure us that the country is just getting through a period which they delight to describe as a spending spree. We all were scrambling in a big bull market bidding against each other for war-depleted stocks with war-inflated money, and nobody cared much for the sensation except the profiteers, whose opportunity it was. For the consumer and the regular businessman, it was not so pleasant. The consumer didn't like to pay tribute to the profiteer, and neither did the retailer, but neither had much choice if they wanted to keep alive.

It was an extreme situation, and extremely uncomfortable. But if in getting from this uncomfortable extreme, as now seems not unlikely, we go to the other the chances are we will be hardly more comfortable. A scrimping spree will have different but no more pleasant effects than the late buying spree. The history of 1873 and 1907 points the moral. If we all refuse to buy nobody can sell, and if nobody can sell factories have to close down, wages have to drop, and a whole train of economic calamities impends.

The effect of a public stampede to buy, thus forcing prices to leap upward, is no worse for the average citizen than that of a sudden stagnation of all buying which might force a collapse. One should remember that it takes time for reductions in material prices to reach the retail market for the finished article. The clothing reaching the retailer now was made from wool purchased a year ago, so that the drop in wool prices in the last few months only distantly affects the immediate clothing market. The same holds true of cotton goods and other lines in which material prices have recently declined. Just as retail prices followed the material market up at an interval of some time, so it takes a while for the full effects of a downward movement to be felt. That is the plain fact of the case, and impatience for a more rapid descent, if it is reflected in refusal to buy, cannot but have a bad effect on the general business structure.

Business must have time to adjust itself to new conditions. This is as important to the individual as to any business firm. Whether you work in a factory or own a business of your own, your interest demands that that factory or business be able to keep going. As a consumer you are interested in lower prices, but as a worker dependent on business conditions for your prosperity you have also a stake in business stability. Don't let one overshadow the other. Keep your balance. Don't plunge, but buy what you need as you need it. The ship's headed in the right direction, but we must keep steerage-way on her if we don't want her wrecked before she makes port.

THE GOLDEN GIRDLE

ONE of the twelve great labors of the Greek god Hercules was to fetch the golden girdle worn by Hippolyte, the queen of Scythia. Scythia was what might be called the first woman's suffrage state. It was governed exclusively by women.

Hercules, it might be said, was the first anti-suffragist of history. The idea of a state well and strongly governed by women gave him a pain, and he made up his mind to humble that government by seizing the queen and taking from her the girdle the fame of which had spread over the then known world.

Strong man though he was, Hercules did not feel equal to the task of single-handedly doing the job. So he took with him a large company of powerful followers. And a rough time they had of it.

He first demanded the girdle but the queen of the Scythians told him to run along and mind his own business and that it was a silly thing anyhow for a man of his reputation to be devoting his great energies to such a trivial matter.

She said, in effect, there are so many great evils in the world, so many vicious dragons and monsters that he with his great energy and enterprise could suppress, that he was foolish to be wasting his time trying to take her girdle away from her.

But Hercules was obstinate and when he couldn't get the girdle by peaceful measures, he resorted to violence. The queen and her countrywomen fought with such obstinacy that only by intercession of his fellow-gods was Hercules able finally to obtain the girdle.

The efforts certain anti-suffragists now are making in the courts to deprive women of their hard-won right to vote, is not unlike the silly campaign of Hercules against the queen's golden girdle. But the gods are not on their side as they were with Hercules, the first of the anti-suffragists. The golden girdle of equal civic rights, buckled by the votes of thirty-seven states, is on to stay.

And, to paraphrase the words of the Scythian queen, why should Americans waste their energies fighting an established fact approved by the conscience of the nation, when there are so many genuine issues to command the attention of energetic Americans?

American railroads are bidding for an entirely new set of stockholders—their employees. This, not unknown in other lines, has been the unusual with railroads. Not much had been done to tempt the engineer, brakeman, ticket seller, or track walker in becoming a partner in the railroad system on whose pay roll his name appeared. Then came a change. Profit-sharing was in the air. Railroads now are headed toward a partnership of capital and labor in which labor will be partly capital, too.

At the coming meeting of railroad financial officers this will be encountered to follow the example set by the Lehigh Valley, the Illinois Central, and the Pennsylvania, pioneers in the movement to put workers' names on both the pay roll and the stock roll.

Already this year 1,028 Lehigh employees have purchased 4,483 shares, paying for them by deductions at the rate of $5 a month per share from their wages. The Pennsylvania has sold 3,300 shares of its stock to 1,500 of its employees.

"It is beneficial both to the employees and the company," asserts C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central.

CHANGES OVERNIGHT

"If you were to commit the socialist party in America to the international program laid down by Lenin, you would absolutely kill the party!"

THIS is the answer given by Eugene V. This ought to settle it!

C. J. Hood and W. F. Wolfe will be the principal speakers at the democratic rally which is to be held at Berr Oak tonight.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Loggers have solved the problem of keeping their men at work in the camps during the winter by having the men sign contracts to work throughout the season, as keeping enough help has always been the chief difficulty of employers.

Mr. A. G. Nevins, formerly of the La Crosse Lumber company, has started a lumber yard at Madison, South Dakota, and will make his future home there.

Coming here from the south at three o'clock Monday morning, the Burlington train ran over a herd of thirty cows which had broken out of pasture. Twenty-six were killed and the remaining four were so badly injured they had to be killed.

The fire committee will meet tonight to consider granting the Kroner Hardware company permission to erect a large two-story warehouse on Jay street.

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Mrs. L. J. Smith has started a class to teach the latest methods of china painting and crayon drawing.

La Crosse Folks at University

Mrs. H. E. Wheaton and daughter Gladys who teaches physical training at the Edgerton schools, were in Madison on Saturday visiting Herbert Wheaton who is a student in the school of engineering.

"Bubbles" Maurer of La Crosse was in Madison for the Northwestern game on Saturday. On Friday Earl Hirschheimer of La Crosse tried out on the Madison golf course for a place on the university golf team which will meet representatives of other conference schools at Chicago the latter part of this month. It will be the first golf tournament held by the Big Ten conference. The Wisconsin try-outs have not been completed. Over a score of players are trying out for the two places on the team.

Merrill "Sox" Maurer, graduate of the La Crosse normal school who is now attending Northwestern university, was in Madison over the weekend. He attended the Northwestern contest with about 600 Purple rosters. Maurer spent the week-end as the guest of other La Crosse students at the university.

Bunice Holford, Cassville, a graduate of the La Crosse normal, is attending the university this year. Otto Meinert, La Crosse, was the guest of his brother, Albert Meinert, over the week-end. Both attended the Northwestern contest on Saturday. Al Meinert, who formerly coached the Oshkosh normal and University high athletic teams is continuing his work in medicine this year.

Jack Bradley of La Crosse has been named assistant chairman of the homecoming committee which will have charge of all homecoming activities. This committee is headed by Lathrop Pollette who served as prom chairman last year. Sub-committees of scores of students have been named by the chairman and his assistants.

Ralph Immell, La Crosse normal graduate, has made plans to stump the state for the La Pollette forces just before the fall election. Immell has been assigned to Eau Claire county for his speaking dates, a stronghold of the Wilcox forces. Immell also spoke in western Wisconsin during the primary election.

"NOBODY'S FOOL" IS ROBSON PLAY, HERE WEDNESDAY

The many interesting inquiries regarding the engagement of the charming comedienne, May Robson, whom Augustus Pitou, Inc., will present at the La Crosse theater on October 20, in her latest and said to be her best play, "Nobody's Fool," the new original comedy which was expressly written for her by the universally known dramatic critic, Alan Dale, leads the management to believe a capacity house awaits her coming.

During the fall end of her season in "Fish," in which she appeared last year, Miss Robson tried out her present vehicle with much success, in fact so much so, that several New York openings were at once offered her. The newspaper critics vied with each other in showering their encomiums on both star and play, the latter not even having a production such as the book called for.

Augustus Pitou, Inc., immediately set to work and secured the four acts which were needed for the three acts with the result that the play not only has an excellently well balanced cast, but a production lavish in the extreme.

The action of the play takes place at Roslyn, L. I., in the summer home of a wealthy Wall street broker, whose wife (Miss Robson), a loving amiable wife and mother, has some experiences through the headstrong ideas of her son, who not only antagonizes the wishes of his father to enter his office as a partner, and devote his time to a business career instead of wasting it on art, of which his father is convinced he has no talent, to say nothing of the boy's

JEAN REBELS AT BEING TAKEN FOR GRANTED PICKS HUGH, NOT BOB

(First Day of Story, "Taken for Granted")
"But mother, I don't want to go to the party with Bob," said Jean as she helped her mother clear away the dishes after dinner.

"Why, Jean, I can't understand you! You know you've always gone to parties with Bob. You have known him since you were a baby. He is such a fine fellow. Most any girl in Weston would be glad of a chance to go to a party with him." Mrs. Crane was proud of her pretty eighteen-year-old daughter.

"Any way," continued Jean, as she dropped into a chair in the corner, "I think I'll tell him I won't go. I'm going with Hugh Hurley!"
"With Hugh Hurley! Why, we don't know him at all!" But Jean walked out of the dining room alone to the parlor, leaving her mother alone to think on her sudden change of heart.

Ever since she had been big enough to play outdoors, Jean Crane had been what the boys call a "good sport." She was always in for a good time, and could be counted on for all hikes, roasts, and picnics. She was a favorite with boys and girls alike.

Bob Brooks had grown up with Jean. The Brooks and the Crane's had been neighbors and close friends for many years. It was only natural that Bob should ask Jean to go to parties with him. He had always done it; Jean knew he would ask her. He never asked anyone else. Just this noon, when leaving school, he had called to her.

"Say, Jean, how about that Senior dance?" "I'll call you up," answered Jean. Bob hurried on, thinking nothing more of it. He took it for granted that he would go to the dance with Jean.

As Jean was lounging in her father's big easy chair, thinking over these things in the dusk of the evening she heard a whistle outside. Startled, she jumped up and looked out. There she saw a big touring car drawn up at the curb. A young man was getting out.

Boyhood Days of Famous Men

ANTHONY WAYNE
School was out! Now, thought young Anthony, we can go fishing or fight a sham battle at the old Indian fort.

But Peter Iddings had planned a different program. Anthony had to wear the dunce-cap that afternoon in school. On it Peter had printed, "Anthony Wayne, His Hat." With great ceremony he presented it.

It was a challenge to Anthony. He tore off his coat and flew at the older boy.

For a long time the battle raged; at last a muffled "I've got enough" came from the vanquished Peter.

After that battle Anthony was "champion fighter" of the school. Anthony Wayne loved battles and fighting.

STUDY HELPS

All History Is Biography
Did you ever happen to think that all history is biography?

Every thing that is written in the hundreds of history books that are lined up shelf after shelf in our libraries is the story of what men or women have done.

Perhaps the best way to get hold of history is to read an interesting life of some big man of the time you are studying.

A life of Henry Clay helps like everything when it comes to getting a clear grasp of the events in that confusing period of American history before the Civil War.

Skin Blemishes

How to get rid of them

Skin specialists are tracing fewer and fewer troubles to the blood. They say more often, skin blemishes can be traced to the bacteria and parasites that are carried into the pores of the skin with dust, soot and grime. To clear your skin of blemishes caused by this insidious and persistent enemy, use regularly the following special treatment.

Just before retiring, wash in your usual way with warm water and Woodbury's Facial Soap; then dry your face. Now dip the tips of your fingers in warm water and rub them on the cake of Woodbury's until they are covered with a heavy cream-like lather. Cover each blemish with a thick coat of this soap cream and leave it on for ten minutes. Rinse very carefully with clear, hot water; then with cold.

In addition to this special treatment, use Woodbury's regularly in your daily toilet. This will make your skin firm and active. It will help the new skin to resist the frequent cause of blemishes. Before long your complexion will take on a new clearness and freshness.

Get a cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap and begin tonight the treatment your skin needs. You will find Woodbury's on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25 cent cake will last a month or six weeks.

HARDING ENTITLED TO AMERICAN VOTES DECLARES JOHNSON

CINCINNATI.—Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California, addressing a Newport (Ky.) audience Monday night, described himself as "not a member of the senatorial oligarchy, but only a casualty of the last republican party convention."

The senator declared he resented any charge of ambiguity against Senator Harding because of his stand on the question of the league of nations. He said Senator Harding's views on the league were made increasingly plain as the days of the campaign passed, and added: "The democratic candidate says that if he is elected the United States will join the league of nations; the republican candidate says: 'If I am elected we will not have anything to do with the league of nations.'"

"For that reason, Senator Harding is entitled to the vote of every red blooded American."

BUSINESS WOMAN'S CLUB NEARS END IN COTTAGE PURCHASE

TO THE TUNE of "On Wisconsin," the following words written by Miss Neida Saunders, were sung at the regular monthly meeting of the Business Woman's club last evening at the Y. W. rooms:

"Business Women; Business Women; Mashke, Morrisroe, Osterhout and Dr. Mary, Burkhardt, Kimball too, Business Women; Business Women; See March lead the line, H. J. M. and all the others, Sylvester and Devine."

Other verses followed.

Thirty-five members of the club were seated at the supper preceding the program of the evening, which was given by Miss Rosalia Lyga, who has recently opened a studio in this city. Miss Lyga gave several readings with pure enunciation and a grace and charm of manner which was in every way free from affectation. Her selections were enlivened by a vein of wit and mimicry which was remarkably well done. She also spoke of her work in the relations to the advantage to be acquired through development of dramatic ability.

At the business session the sum of $173.50 was reported as received since the last meeting to apply on the purchase of the Hovek cottage. There remains $1,470.50 yet to be raised. Interest is keen in the undertaking and it is not doubted that the end will be reached before long. The members of the club are filled with enthusiasm and nothing seems to daunt their courage. Another item of interest was a petition presented by the La Crosse County Community Council to the mayor and the members of the common council asking that lights be installed in Riverside park for the protection of the morals of the youth of the city. It was endorsed by the club.

During the evening cleverly gotten up song booklets, under the direction of Miss Mary Damon, were distributed. They are for regular use of the club.

A PARTY OF FRIENDS delightfully surprised Mrs. Clarence Johnson, 1141 State street, in compliment to her birthday. A delicious luncheon was served by the guests.

INVITATIONS have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Tuttle, 1621 Charles street, to the marriage of their daughter, Esther, to Mr. Lawrence Monroe of Minneapolis, which will take place Monday, October 25, at the home of the bride's parents.

MR. AND MRS. LEE G. Asplin entertained at a week-end house party at their cottage at Sunset Point. The guests were Messrs. and Mesdames Robert S. Cowie, William D. Weedy, Miss Grace Forbes and Messrs. Archie Oberg and Webster Russell.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK B. Root, 1016 Main street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Dean, to Mr. Ralph Z. Sorenson of Menomonee, Wis., which took place Monday, October 18.

MR. AND MRS. ALFRED Nesler and Miss Edna Johnson spent the week-end at Sparta with Mrs. Nesler's parents.

MRS. FRANK LARKIN and son, Bobbie, have returned from Thompson, Ill., after a visit of two weeks.

A PARTY of twenty-five was entertained at dinner Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey West at the head of French Island. The afternoon was enlivened by an exciting ball game with Mr. West and Oswald Gunderson as captains. The score was 20 to 0 in favor of the latter.

ON SUNDAY evening Miss Agnes Freyler, 1333 Johnson street, was pleasantly surprised by a large number of her friends from La Crosse, the occasion being her birthday. Don Cameron, Joe and Laverne Giltens, Frank Ormsley, Elmer Kerrigan, Peter Gillis, Ernest Tiffany and Henry Cass.

HARDING OFF EARLY WEDNESDAY ON LAST TRIP OF CAMPAIGN

LENROOT PREDICTS LABOR WILL END IN FAVOR OF ESCH BILL

Declares its Provisions for Settling Wage Disputes
Will be Approved

ATTACKS DEMOCRATS AND THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Arraigns Democratic Administration for Waste During War

WATERTOWN, Wis.—Opening the second week of his campaign with a speech here Monday night, Senator Irvine L. Lenroot fired a three gun broadside in the interests of the republican national ticket.

The first volley was aimed at the extreme and inexcusable waste of money by the democratic administration during the war, and the part this waste has played in causing the high cost of living.

Shot number two had as its target the misrepresentation by Senator Robert M. La Follette of the Esch-Cummings law and the debate relating thereto.

The muzzle of the third big gun was trained on President Wilson's league of nations, with Article X as the bulwark.

Talks of Tax Waste

Senator Lenroot accused the Wilson regime of being responsible for a considerable part of the high cost of living. He told of numerous cases of tremendous waste during the war and proved how, in the final analysis, the taxpayer was made to stand the effect of such carelessness. One illustrative incident, in which he told of some democratic bureaucrats at Washington buying enough saddles so that there would be at least five for each horse in the American army, brought a roar of laughter.

The senator charged that in the September issue of his magazine, Senator La Follette in an editorial on one of his (Lenroot's) speeches, with reference to the original Cummings bill, selected a few sentences from the middle of a paragraph, which standing alone, gave a direct opposite meaning from that which was conveyed when the entire paragraph was read. To substantiate his charges of trickery he read first the editorial and then the entire paragraph from the congressional record.

Poult Strike Clause

"In the original Cummings bill, there was a provision, the effect of which was to prohibit strikes, under severe penalty. I opposed this provision before the senate, and in fact opposed the entire bill. The provision was stricken in conference, and there is nothing whatever in the law prohibiting railroad employees from striking.

There is created by the law, a rail- road labor board to be composed of nine members: three representing employees, three owners of the rail- road, and three representing the pub- lic. It is made the duty of this labor board to take jurisdiction of any dis- pute that the adjustment board, com- posed of equal representatives of em- ployees and the railroads, do not set- tle. In considering the question of wages, it is made the duty of the board to take into consideration the scales of wages paid for similar kinds of work in other industries, the re- lations between wages and the cost of living, the hazards of the employ- ment, the training and skill re- quired, the degree of responsibility, the character and regularity of the em- ployment, and inequalities of wages or treatment, the result of previous wage orders or adjustment.

No Strike Provision

"These standards, all in the interest of the railway employees, are laid down in the law itself as a guide and standard to govern the board. The decisions of the labor board are not made compulsory upon employees and there is no prohibition whatever of the right to strike, but with such a tribunal, fairly constituted, justice will be done to railway employees, without compelling them to resort to a disastrous strike in order to gain their rights.

The value of this board has al- ready been demonstrated. It is nearly a year ago that the railway em- ployees made application to the direc- tor general of railroads for an in- crease in wages. President Wilson's administration took no action what- ever, when, as a matter of fact, the dispute should have been settled within sixty days after the applica- tion was made. It was not until after the passage of the Esch-Cum- mings law that action was had.

This labor board, that I have de- scribed, immediately upon their ap- pointment, began work, and in Aug- ust rendered their decision, increas- ing the wages of railway employees up- on the average of twenty-two per cent. I am satisfied that in years to come the strongest defenders of this part of the Esch-Cummings railway law will be the railway employees themselves."

DIVORCE ACTIONS

Mrs. Mabel Cornwell has filed complaint in divorce proceedings against C. J. Cornwell. They were married in Napoleon, Mich., July 1, 1901. According to the charges they have not lived together for 12 years.
The husband is charged with failing to support his wife and two children and deserting them in 1913.

Mrs. Lulu Kindy has started divorce action against her husband William Kindy. She charges him with cruel treatment in that he re- fused to speak to her, and failed to support her and their two children. They were married in Appleton June 23, 1915.

"The longer it runs."

FOUR CENTS MORE FOR THE EMPLOYES ON ONE MAN CARS

Differential Given in Recommendation of State Board for Street-Car Employees

Employees of the Wisconsin Railway Light and Power company who operate the one-man street cars will receive four cents more per hour than the motormen and conductors on the two-men cars, according to notification received by E. H. Harlow, attorney for the men, provided the recommendation of the state board of conciliation is accepted by the railroad commission of Wisconsin.

First word of the increased pay recommended by the state board covered no information regarding the differential between the workers on the one-man and two-men cars. The letter received by Mr. Harlow from the board of conciliation, a copy of the report filed with the railroad commission, follows:

"The Honorable Railroad Commission of Wisconsin, Mr. C. D. Se-cheverell, Secretary, Madison, Wis.

"Pursuant to a meeting of this board held June 30, 1920, at the city hall council chamber in La Crosse, Wisconsin, in the matter of the wage adjustment of the employees of the Wisconsin Railway Light and Power company, your board after due consideration of all factors in the case, believes that the wages should be as follows:

One-Man Operation

55c per hour for the first six months.

56c per hour for the second six months.

Two-Men Operation

months.

52c per hour for the second six months.

54c per hour thereafter.

"Nine hours on week days and eight hours on Sundays shall be the minimum average time allowed on each regular run and no overtime shall be paid on any regular run when the average time does not exceed ten hours.

"BOARD OF CONCILIATION."

HEAR OPPONENTS OF ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY

NEW YORK.—Opponents of the proposed deep sea route through the St. Lawrence river appeared today before the international joint commission, investigating feasibility of the project.

In behalf of the New York chamber of commerce, William McCarrall opposed the project, declaring "past statistical records of freight shipments fail to justify the tremendous expenditure involved, "which he estimated to be between $300,000,000 and $500,000,000.

OSHKOSH CELEBRATING HARVEST FESTIVAL

OSHKOSH, Wis.—This city is conducting a harvest festival exhibit this week with the business streets trimmed with cornstalk sheaves, pumpkins and other products of the season. Special window displays of Oshkosh made and grown products are featured. In the country a health week program is being conducted in the rural schools.

BELGIUM AND BRAZIL SIGN TRADE AGREEMENT

AMSTERDAM.—Belgium and Brazil have signed a commercial and financial agreement as a sequel of the visit of Albert, king of the Belgians, to Brazil, says a Brussels dispatch.

ANARCHISTS ARRESTED

ROME.—Following Monday's attack on the Aureliano fort, near here, police and carabinieri sent from Rome attacked an inn where it was reported anarchists were gathered. They found a number of persons, but all escaped except three, who were arrested.

East Takes the Rubber Supremacy

The rubber supremacy which belonged to Brazil until ten years ago has departed and now nine-tenths of the rubber supply comes from the Far East. Just about a decade ago some Englishman conceived the idea that the rubber plant could be grown in plantations in many sections of the east and he tried the experiment with great success.

Roast to Republican Leaders," says a that's an improvement over J'm Cox's cold bath.—Washington Post.

NOT FOR STATE OR NATIONAL PLATFORM DECLARES BLAINE

Gubernatorial Candidate Says He Will Not Discuss National Candidates or Issues

PROMISES PROBE OF STATE CAMPAIGN IF HE'S ELECTED

Declares Money is Used in Huge Amount to Beat Him

PLATTEVILLE, Wis.—Because he is opposed to the Esch Cummings railroad law and is opposed to the league of nations, John J. Blaine, republican candidate for governor, declared in an address here Monday night that he could not support the republican platform as adopted. He quoted from a speech by Senator Len-root in which he declared that he would not "discuss in this campaign state issues and state candidates."

"That sets forth a very logical, consistent rule," said Mr. Blaine "I have adhered to a like rule respecting national candidates, and so, I have not discussed, nor do I propose to discuss in the campaign, national issues or national candidates.

Hits State Committee

"Besides, the Republican national campaign committee is very actively looking after the interests of the Republican candidates for federal offices.
This is their duty, of course. On the other hand, I know of no activity in my behalf on the part of the Republican state central committee, whose duty is plain and who must bear the responsibility for the neglect of a duty imposed by party rule and statutory law.

"I have not considered it necessary to discuss national affairs nor candidates, for the reasons I have stated.
The Republican party endorsed the Esch-Cummings bill in its platform and is indefinite on the League of Nations issue. I could not accept that platform then and I cannot accept it now, without exhibiting a degree of political cowardice of which I am incapable.

"When the state platform endorsed by implication the Esch-Cummings bill and the very indefinite and unsatisfactory plank on the League of Nations, I could not accept that part of it. No Republican could do so without condemning Representative Kleczka, Voigt, Classen, Frear, Lampert and Browne, who voted against the Esch-Cummings bill. No Republican can endorse the Esch-Cummings law without opposing our other Republican candidates for congress, Beck, Cooper, and Nelson of the Third District, who were nominated by large majorities over the men who voted for the bill.

Couldn't Support Platform

"In other words, every Congressman but one on the Republican ticket is against the Esch-Cummings bill.
How could I stultify myself by an unconditional endorsement of the state platform? How could I oppose practically our whole Congressional delegation on an issue in which I was in hearty accord?

"The state platform which condemns and abuses a farmers' organization organized for the purpose of promoting the economic, social and industrial welfare of this state, that action is far removed from the spirit and purposes of the founders of the Republican party, John C. Fremont and Abraham Lincoln.

"Those who sought to force upon me that kind of a platform and who ask me to stultify myself before the people of my state debauch politics and give aid and comfort to a bi-partisan agreement which today stands out naked in its unpopularity.

"I am condemned by some because I have the endorsement of farmers.
My opponent has the endorsement of men who seek to control government for their own personal use; of the National Defense League, a fit successor of the National Security League, financed by the interests who have their seat of power in Wall street.

"I am reliably informed that the National Defense League had a fund of about a quarter of a million dollars to spend in this state with the pretense of defending the Constitution.
Now, I believe that the Constitution is quite safe in the hands of the people, and they need no such sinister influence as the National Defense League to come into this state to save or protect our people and our Constitution.

"A tremendous amount of money has been spent in the last four months to defeat me, and in the interests of other candidates. I want to serve notice now that the people of Wisconsin are unpurchasable and I also want to serve notice now that when I am elected governor I shall insist that there be a legislative investigation concerning the lavish and very probable expenditure of money for political purposes. There are a good many leagues in this state, unlike the farmers' league, which are secretly operating, and if I perform no other service to the people when governor than to root out the secret, sinister influences that are attempting to control our primaries and elections, I will do a service that is worth while.

ILLINOIS RAILROADS DENIED RATE INCREASE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—Railroads of Illinois were today denied a forty per cent increase in freight rates by the state public utilities commission.

CLEAN UP GREEN BAY

GREEN BAY, Wis.—A state-wide clean-up of vice conditions resulted in the arrest of nineteen women here last night, four of whom are alleged to be keepers of houses of ill-fame.

The arrests were made by Sheriff Henry Vander Heuvel and his deputies, under the direction of Max J.
Colton, regional consultant of the division of venereal diseases of the United States public health service.

CAMPAIGN RECORDS TO BE PUBLISHED BEFORE ELECTION

Senate Committee Orders Pulication of Accounts Five Days Before Election

WILL INVESTIGATE ACTIVITIES OF LEAGUE TO ENFORCE PEACE

Violation of Logan Act of 1799 is Charged

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—Five days before the coming election, on Thursday, October 28, complete records of the collections and disbursements of the republican and democratic parties will be submitted to the public.

The senate committee investigating campaign expenditures meeting here Monday directed the chairman of the national, senatorial and congressional committees of the two parties to file such reports at Chicago on that date.
The reports are to cover all activities since the party chairmen testified at the committee hearing in Chicago several weeks ago.

In telegrams addressed to Wm. H.
Hays, republican chairman; George White, head of the democratic national committee, and heads of other party organizations, the committee asked for complete lists of all subscriptions in excess of $100; detailed figures on expenditures, and also a list of all pledges, promises or underwriting. Senator Reed specifically asked for the latter in an effort to learn whether any arrangements had been made to meet the deficits which it has been reported both parties will face after the election.

Committee Recedes

The senatorial committee recessed after Monday's session and does not expect to meet again until after November 2.

Investigation of all senatorial campaigns was deferred by the committee until after the election.

A report on the activities of the league to enforce peace on which William Howard Taft is president introduced into the record before the senators left Monday night, may be followed by further investigation of the league and examination of its officers, members of the committee indicated. Don M. Hunt, attorney for the committee, who prepared the report following investigation of the letter files of the league, suggested his findings that some members of the league had violated the Logan act, passed in 1799, to prohibit private citizens negotiating with foreign governments or their agents in matters of controversy in which the United States is interested.

DRY AGENTS BAR LIQUOR SHIPMENTS OUT OF CHICAGO

Forty Arrested in Raid on Liquor Curb at Newark

CHICAGO.—Shipment of intoxicating liquor to or from Chicago was ordered stopped on Monday by Major A. V. Delmyle, federal prohibition official, and Ralph W. Stone, state prohibition director, in an effort to curb activities of an alleged "ring" of bootleggers which is said to have illicitly disposed of thousands of barrels of whiskey here. The only exception is that alcohol for industrial purposes may be moved by permit.

Arrest Party at Newark

NEWARK, N. J.—Newark's alleged "whiskey curb" was raided Tuesday by the police and forty men arrested on a charge of loitering.

Several men escaped in motor cars.
The raid followed reports that liquor was being sold along the curb, located in the warehouse district, where large supplies of bonded liquor is in storage.

The prisoners were questioned concerning alleged business methods along the curb.

SEEK GRAVE OF WOMAN REPORTED BURIED ALIVE

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—The police Tuesday prepared to search in Manville for the grave of a woman take M. Cuckin who is alleged to have told friends that a boarding-house proprietor in Manville beat his wife, tied her hands and feet and buried her in a wall.

confidence has been reviving in the sugar market and a better demand has developed.

WISCONSIN'S 1920 CROP OF CABBAGE REPORTED HEAVY

Crop of Good Quality With Average Yield of Ten Tons Per Acre

MADISON, Wis.—The next issue of the Market Division's News Letter will say of the cabbage crop: "Reports from the cabbage sections of the state indicate an extra large crop is to be harvested this year. Late reports tell of some disease troubles and most sections report considerable worm eaten stock. On the whole, however, the crop is of good quality and is of very good size, in fact if any complaint could be made on the size it would be that the stock runs uniformly large. Crop reports indicate a total production in the state of 153,000 tons as compared with 91,000 tons last year and 125,000 tons in 1918. The average yield per acre is given as 10.2 tons per acre as compared with 7.3 tons last year. The estimated average yield in the United States is 7 tons per acre compared with 5.3 tons last year.

"Prices being paid to farmers for their cabbage vary considerably over the state. Most of the early cabbage was sold at prices ranging from $4 to $7 per ton, with the majority of sales ranging from $4 to $5 per ton. The price on Danish cabbage, however, has increased and farmers in some sections are being paid $8 per ton. Some farmers are reluctant to sell at this price and are holding for higher prices. Reports from Colorado state that the growers have been dissatisfied and have a co-operative arrangement whereby they are able to control the crop to some extent and the farmers are receiving prices ranging from $8 to $12 per ton. Wisconsin cabbage is being sold in Chicago for $12 per ton."

Short Story

THE BIG BULLY!

By RAY BAKER

"You're too young to be a man hater," observed Aunt Emma, pouring another cup of tea which was decidedly black.

Ella Winslow, her niece, sipped her tea, which had been diluted considerably, and arched her eyebrows, and said nothing.

"Look at me," her aunt went on, fingering the cup handle in pleasant anticipation. "Here I'm nearly fifty, and have had two husbands, and—here she paused to convey the cup to her mouth and set it back on the saucer with an air of contentment. Leaning across the table, she resumed: "—and I don't know but I'd take another chance, if I got one."

Her niece looked idly out of the window of the cabin.

"It ain't natural," Aunt Emma persisted. "For a young woman to seclude herself like that from male society. Now, there's Frank Samson, for instance—"

Ella turned, with a gesture of impatience.

"Now, what would be the sense of burdening myself with a man?" she exclaimed. "When women can get along all right on their own resources, why take on such a responsibility? Do you think I want a man to boss and bully me around? All men are bullies at heart, if not in actions. Frank Samson, especially, is too physically strong to be morally strong. He'd try to break my will, and I don't want, it broken. I like to have my own way, and I'm going to continue having it."

Aunt Emma drained the cup.

"Ella," she said, surveying her niece's profile, "you're too good looking to be a man hater. Now, if you were very plain and unattractive it might be excusable to talk that way. Furthermore, you surmise too much. You get a thought in your head and never stop to consider you might be wrong. I know lots of tender-hearted men, and my two husbands were that kind. No man could be mean to you, I am sure."

"You're talking of the men on another generation," Ella retorted. "I'm talking of present day men. I've seen enough of them in business to know they're heartless. My employer sent me on a vacation, pretending to perform a kind deed; but I know the real reason was he realized I required a rest in order to do my best in his interests. He bullied me into taking the vacation. It's natural for a man to be a bully. You may call it something else—determination—for instance—but it's just plain bully. I want none of it."

"You're wrong," her aunt said decisively, "but there's no use arguing. Maybe some day you'll be convinced you have been unjust."

"Maybe," Ella admitted, grudgingly.

To tell the truth, Frank Samson had attracted Ella more than she cared to confess. She resisted this attraction, however, for she was sincere in her aversion to men and was determined never to marry.

Ella was a successful business woman, having recently become manager of a retail store in Chicago. In the slack months of winter she was ordered on a ninety-day vacation by the buying proprietors and she chose her aunt's home in California as the place to spend it.

Aunt Emma was comfortably fixed financially, but she lived in a modest cabin on the outskirts of the small city. She took it upon herself to entertain her niece by inviting young men to the house and in that way Ella became acquainted with Frank Samson, a member of one of the city's foremost families.

His father owned a large orange grove, and Frank, attended to the wholesale marketing of the fruit. He had spent two years in college, but was too interested in athletics to waste time on his books, and was called home.

Frank was more than six feet in height and was broad too. He had a good-natured way about him that interested Ella, but she told herself it was only a veneer that would rub off.

on close acquaintance. Nevertheless, she couldn't help thinking of him considerably.

The day following the dialogue about men Aunt Emma and Ella went for a walk in the forest that surrounded the city. They were lovers of nature and liked to wander among the tall trees.

They had walked for perhaps half an hour along a path when angry voices at one side attracted their attention. Curiosity prompted them to part the foliage and look into a clearing, where two men stood face to face.

"I tell you you can't have it," said one of the men, tall and broad-shouldered.

"And why not?" questioned the other, shorter but equally broad, with a thick neck. "Is it yours?"

"No, but it's not yours, either, and you let it alone or there'll be trouble, and the other man held a fist under the other's nose."

Ella felt sick at heart, for she had recognized the aggressor as Frank Samson. She saw the other man stoop toward the ground, and then Frank gave him a sharp kick and sent him sprawling on his back.

Ella ran away, but her aunt did not follow.

"I knew it, I knew it," Ella repeated over and over, as she ran toward the cabin; and, once in it, she indulged in a few tears. Although she would not have admitted it, she had begun to believe Frank different from other men.

Her aunt appeared soon, puffing from exertion, for she was stout.

"That's a big disappointment," she gasped, settling herself in a chair and fanning herself with a book. "There wasn't any fight at all. Frank just picked the other fellow up and gave him a good spanking, and booted him down the hill."

"The big bully," Ella cried. "I knew he was like that. A big, husky fellow picking on a smaller man. That's a fine example of present-day man for you, Aunt Emma."

To save herself, she couldn't help bursting into tears, and she lay on the sofa and gave full vent to them. Aunt Emma looked astonished for a moment, then crossed the room and patted her niece's head.

"There, there, girl; don't take on that way. He wasn't bullying the other fellow. The other fellow was Sam Brinkin, an ex-prize fighter. And do you know what the fight was about?"

Ella didn't even raise her head to tell you, said her aunt softly.

"It was about a cat-pillar," Sam wanted to capture it and torture it, and Frank wouldn't let him."

Ella raised herself quickly, a light of joy in her eyes.

"Oh, I'm glad," she exclaimed. "He wasn't a bully, after all. I couldn't stand it if he was."

Outside the cabin an auto horn squeaked, and they both went to the door. Frank Samson sat in a big car. "Come on for a ride, Ella," he called. "I have some things to say to you—important things."

Ella felt like accepting, but she must fight this man's growing power over her.

"I don't believe I'd better," she responded. "I think."

"Don't think, then," he insisted, getting out of the car. "Come on, I tell you, I'm used to giving orders and

Dear Old Pete!

Just wound up the one swellest day of my life! Since early this a.m. when I got an invitation to visit R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. factories, I've been in the midst of millions of Camel Cigarettes! Yes sir, right from the rooms where the choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos go into Camels unbeatable blend, straight through to the loading platforms where cases holding 10,000 Camels each are packed into car after car for shipping to every corner and cross roads in the U. S. A!

Alan—the happiest idea you or I ever had as to the size of this Reynolds enterprise, or the number of Camels manufactured daily, is simply pickin' stuff! Why—Pete, it seemed to me like a couple of those cigarette-making machines could keep half the nation smoking Camels steadily—BUT—there are hundreds of these machines batting out Camels at 27,000 an hour—EACH!

And, Pete, you wouldn't have to consult a guide book to know you were in the Camel factories! The atmosphere is just charged with that wonderful aroma you get when you open a deck of Camels! And, you know, old elephant, you've had a trunk full!

I stood by one of these machines, fascinated, and figured the delight each Camel would supply! And, how Camels mellow, mild body would hit the right spot and how Camels refreshing flavor would cheer up some smokers' jaded appetite! And, each Camel free from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor! And—

Pete, I'll have to lay off and light another Camel! Write you some more soon, old Camel-o-pard!

Yours Joyously

AN OPEN LETTER TO MR. BECK

Mr. Joseph D. Beck, Viroqua, Wis.
Dear Sir:—

There seems to be some uncertainty in the minds of many voters relative to your stand on the present wet and dry question.

In order to settle this matter will you please state where you stand concerning the Volstead act, and are you in favor of legalizing beer and light wines?

Again, what is your connection with the Non-Partisan League? If you have given any pledges to the League, how are you going to reconcile that fact with the platform of the party through which you received your nomination?

My point is this, Mr. Beck, having apparently repudiated your party and party platform before election, where and with whom will you stand after election?

Awaiting an early reply.

Yours respectfully,

ROBERT H. CLARKE,
Candidate for Congress 7th District,

RIVOLI

Last times tonight, William S. Hart in "The Cradle of Courage." Starting tomorrow for four days, Thomas H. Ince's special production, "Homespun Folks."

There is something vitally American in the fiber of "Homespun Folks." Thomas Ince's first contribution to the releases of the Associated Producers. Like all big American successes it stands for clean romance and wholesome after-tastes. The audience will leave the theater feeling better for having seen the picture.

Human interest fairly oozes out of the drama. The acting of Lydia Knott, as the mother, and Charles Mailles, as the father, is superb, while young Lloyd Hughes exemplifies all that is best in young American manhood. The characterizations smack of real life, and there is nothing studied about the action.

Animals and humans alike play important parts in this rural epic. "Homespun Folks" will live just as "The Old Homestead" and "Way Down East" has lived. It is vitally real, and its appeal is as universal as the appeal of motherhood. Every class and creed will enjoy the picture; it is for every member of the family. It is the heart drama of 10,000 small towns and of 60,000,000 plain people.

To complete the program "Topics of the Day," bright sayings from our leading magazines, and newspapers, "Seven Bald Pates," a Christie comedy, starring Bobby Vernon.

MAJESTIC

New York is made glitteringly attractive even in the scenes portraying its wickedness in "On With the Dance," at the Majestic, starting today, for the balance of the week. Scarcely has a more colorful photoplay been offered screen lovers. In the brilliant scenes in the Broadway cabarets, the luxurious apartments of the rich, and the myriad-lighted say-line of a great city, a dazzling spectacle has been filmed.

The story brings to the front the excellent dramatic talents of Mae Murray the erstwhile dancer of the Follies and now a screen player of more than ordinary charm and ability, and the suave and affable David Powell. The plot concerns a Russian immigrant girl, selfish and pleasure loving, who, suddenly injected into the atmosphere of New York "high life," at first yields to the temptations of easy money that are offered her on every hand, but later in a big crisis redeems herself.

"On With the Dance" is described as the first personally produced picture bearing the name of George Fitzmaurice. The story is from Michael Morton's celebrated stage play of the same name.

RIVIERA

Dainty Marguerite Clark in a characteristic light comedy role, "Easy to Get," at the Riviera last evening, was thoroughly delightful.

The title refers to a remark that a two hour old husband made in the hearing of his bride, while on their honeymoon, to the effect that women are like trolley cars. If you miss one another will be along in a minute. The bride decided to give him a chance to prove it, and slips off the train at the next station. He pursues frantically and both land into a laughable and exciting set of adventures.

Miss Clark's performance is, as usual vigorous and pleasing. Harrison Ford is agreeably cast as the young husband, and Rodney La Rocque, Kid Broad, and Helen Green are also included in the cast.

BIJOU

Charles Ray in "Homer Comes Home," will continue today at the Bijou. Charles as the country youth who goes to the city to get a job, then comes back to startle the natives, gives one of the best characterizations of his career. The supporting cast is excellent, and as a whole proves to be a delightful comedy.

CASINO

"The Gift Supreme," a Republic special production, opens at the Casino today. It will be reviewed in these columns tomorrow.

Relics show that cave men of the stone age had no domestic animals. One ton of good Peruvian guano is equal to 33 1/2 tons of ordinary manure.

TO THE PUBLIC

I am not in the habit of endorsing pictures over my signature, but here's one time that I feel I owe to the patrons of the Rivoli theatre the assurance that I think "Homespun Folks" is one of the most delightful and REAL pictures that has come to my notice in many months. It gets to you and warns you all over. You feel the influence of it long after you have seen it. Best of all it is clean, wholesome and funny with dramatic and comedy situations. It will bring a tear and almost simultaneously bring a chuckle. It is a picture for the whole family.

BURROWS ESTATE TURNED OVER TO STATE SOCIETY

Historical Society Gets Bequest of Over Quarter of a Million

MADISON, Wis.—The Wisconsin State Historical society receives $250,000 from the estate of George H. Burrows, former senator from this district and one time prominent real estate man of Madison, according to the settlement of the estate made in County court. Mr. Burrows died in 1909.

The terms of the will provide for an income of $2,000 a year for his only son, with the provision that, if he married, his wife was to be given an equal annual income. Should the couple have children they would inherit the entire sum.

George Burrows, Jr., married shortly after his father's death. He died about two years ago and the estate has been pending settlement since. There were no children born.

The will states that in such case, the estate was to revert to the historical society and this was the final order.

Mrs. George Burrows, who lives in Chicago, will continue to receive $2,000 a year from the estate. In the possession of the historical society during her life.

Land near Lakewood is included in the estate and this will revert to the historical society.

BADGERS AT FRONT PORCH OF HARDING

Veterans' Drum Corps Leads Pep as Wisconsin Republicans Invade Marion

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN (Staff Correspondent of the La Crosse Tribune and Leader-Press)

MARION, O.—Arrived in all the glory that flags, banners and streamers could give, the cobbled streets ringing with marching thousands, Marion embraced in its now well trained grim Wisconsin's pilgrims here as it stepped off the special train from the Badger state.

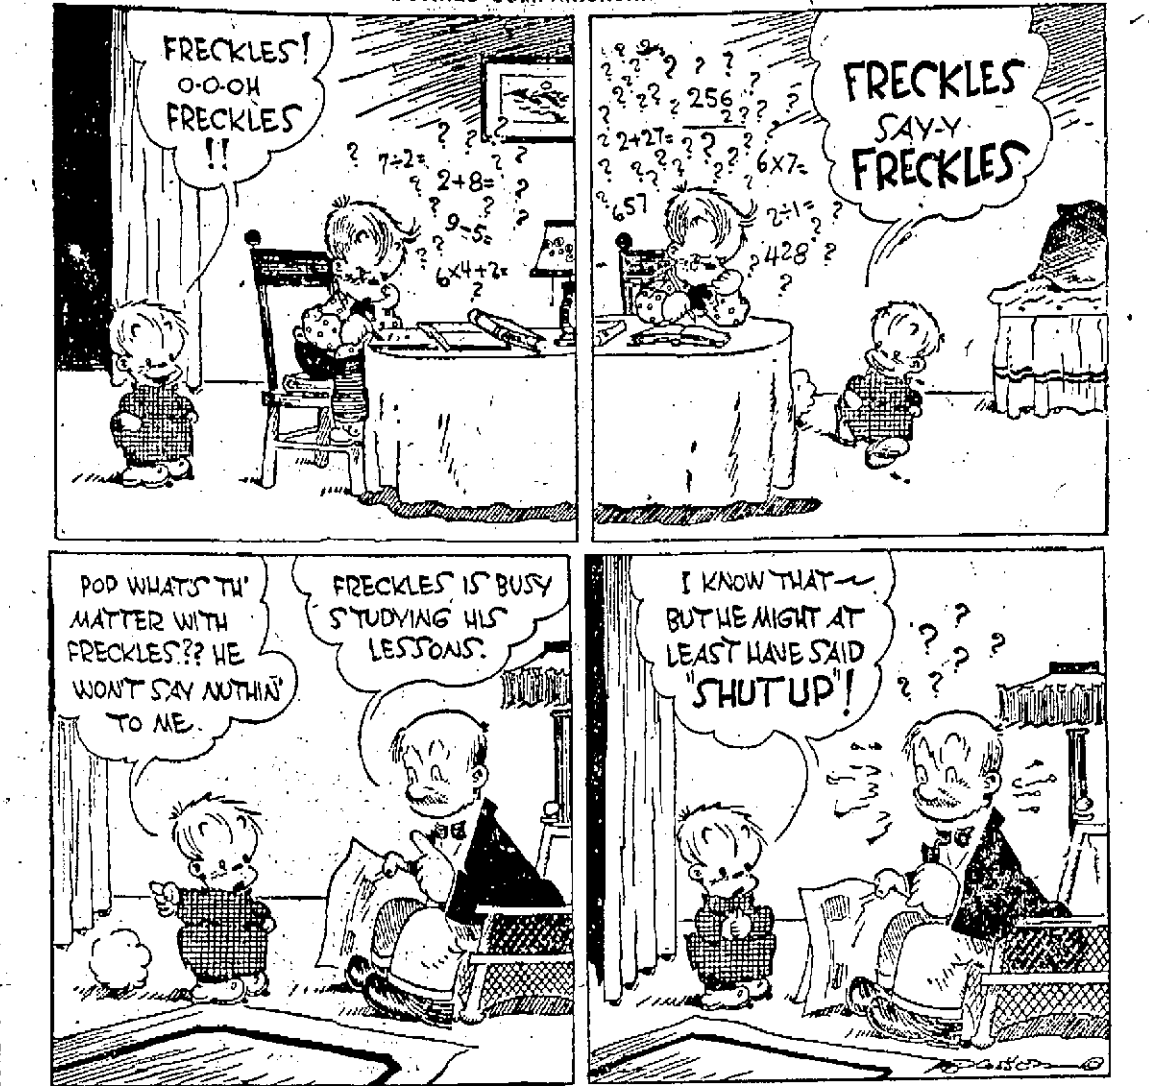

The trip had been dry, both in spirit and letter, which had surprised the porter as well as many others. There were Badger nobles in the delegation from Wisconsin but they were merely "among those present" in the light of the Wisconsin veterans' drum corps. These old timers, in the full flush of the "blue of the sixties," roiled their drums and piped the battle cries of their youth. Thousands lined the streets, applauding the Badgers as they "sounded off." The old boys went to it in spite of the fact that they had only the "plaudits of the multitude" as their inspiration, and they ran the gauntlet from reveille to retreat as they did it "way back yonder."

It was truly as one buckeye farmer or drily remarked, "the best piping I ever heard from purely self-inspired sources." Capt. Max E. Biresnelli, commander of the corps, conceived the idea of serenading Senator Harding, so the doughty vets moved on the senator's domicile and the nonline came out on his famous porch and waved his hand in greeting.

The musicians redoubled their already heroic efforts and the dim brought vivid ideas of what the battle of Gettysburg must have been. Never before had the horrors of the Civil war been so graphically portrayed in as brief a presentation.

"They are from Wisconsin, the home of the famous old iron brigade," somebody told the senator. This brought forth once more the famous Harding smile and he beckoned the players to him and shook hands with the veterans as they filed by. The crowd cheered, the senator smiled and left, according to insistent rumor, to hold a conference with advisors in his "garage." This "garage" is still a mystery to the Badgers, but hopes were held out that its true nature would be ascertained.

This much can be said. While Wisconsin's delegation was outnumbered by those of seven other states represented, they outdid the others in noise and pep on a strictly "within the law" basis.

A monster parade was held in the afternoon through the streets and out to Senator Harding's home. There a speech and handshaking. Wisconsin occupied front seats on the lawn.

Pittsburg sent a red robed band and white clothed lady marchers who sang "Pennsylvania" to the tune of "We go marching on."

The Badgers will start for home at 11 p. m. The Wisconsin demonstration will virtually sound taps on the campaign.

BEAUTY CULTURE HINTS

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some cantharox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

MADISON SUGGESTS RYAN AS SUCCESSOR TO JUDGE SANBORN

Bernard R. Goggins of Grand Rapids also Mentioned for the Position

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 19.—Two names have been suggested as possible successors to the late Judge A. L. Sanborn of the federal court here. The Madison Bar will probably recommend the appointment of William Ryan of Madison to the position. The other name that has been suggested here is Bernard R. Goggins, Grand Rapids.

The appointment of federal judges is made by the president. This vacancy will be filled by an appointment of President Wilson. Mr. Ryan, the city attorney of Madison has been prominent in democratic politics in southern Wisconsin. Mr. Goggins was appointed as an assistant to U. S. District Atty. A. C. Wolfe, during the war. There seems to be doubt as to whether Mr. Goggins would accept the position. Several years ago he was tendered an appointment as railroad commissioner of Wisconsin and declined.

In some quarters the name of A. C. Wolfe, La Crosse, has been mentioned. The friends of Mr. Ryan are expected to put his case before the president at an early date.

Meteors rarely strike the earth. They are consumed by the heat generated by the friction in passing through the atmosphere. It is believed that they are first seen at a distance of about eight miles above the earth, but generally they disappear entirely at thirty miles. The heat generated is reckoned to be 3,000,000 degrees.

WANTS DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE PRINTED

NEW YORK—Lillian Russell, who now is Mrs. Alexander P.
Moore, has contributed $100 to the republican national committee for printing and distribution of copies of the American Declaration of Independence. She was convinced to do this, she said, when she noticed that "some women democrats are contributing $100 each to have printed and distributed copies of the league of nations covenant."

UNEARTH OLD SKELETON

SCOTTS BLUFF, Neb.—E. H. Bur-bourn of the state university, Monday unearthed a morbus skeleton, which he believed to be more than 200,000 years old. The skeleton was found in the famous fossil beds of Cook's ranch near Scotts Bluff. It will be preserved and sent to the university museum, it was announced.

No. From a "mild case" a severe case may be contracted, and in exposing your child to measles you are result of the attack of measles.

As this number represents only 30 states, it is safe to assume that over 10,000 deaths occur each year in the United States from "only measles."

BIRTHMARK

Q. I am a girl 16 years old. I have a birthmark on my chest that is tan in color and looks somewhat like a wart. It grows every year. It has grown from my chest over on to my left arm. Could it be removed?

A. Everything will depend on the nature of the birthmark. Some of these can be removed by proper treatment. In many cases, however, nothing can be done. By all means ask your family physician to refer you to some experienced skin specialist. I would not delay in the matter.

CATARRH OF THE HEAD

Q. Kindly inform me what to use for buzzing and singing noises in the ears. It affects only at nighttime or when lying upon the couch.

A. Buzzing and singing noises in the ears are usually the result of an inflammation in the internal part of the ear, and this, in turn, commonly comes from chronic catarrh in the head. The condition is often successfully treated, but usually requires the services of a nose and throat specialist. The trouble may subside spontaneously.

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Q. Please advise me a diet for a lady who has kidney trouble. Troubled more at night, not being able to control herself, and causing bed-wetting, getting up four to six times at night.

A. It is not at all certain from the little information in this question that the lady is really suffering from kidney trouble. Many persons believe that all urinary diseases are traceable to the kidneys, though oftentimes this is not so. Oftentimes, with kidneys perfectly sound, there is trouble with the bladder or urinary passages. The patient should have a thorough examination made by a qualified physician. Should she be suffering from kidney trouble, specific advice as to diet will depend entirely on the nature of the trouble, for no general directions governing diet can be given which are applicable to all kinds of kidney diseases.
